

Not Your Mother's Book Club

Meeting and Theme List

February- Thursday, Feb. 5th 6:30

- "I've been meaning to read that!": Is it a classic? The next in a series? One your friend won't stop talking about? What's one book that's been hanging on your TBR forever?

March- Thursday, March 5th 6:30

- Choose a Book by it's Cover: Maybe it's got a fanciful title, the artwork is beautiful, or the author's name is intriguing. Regardless, choose the book only based on its cover, and go into the story blind.

April- Thursday, April 2nd 6:30

- A "Bad" Book: We've all read them. Find a book you hate or revisit one you stumbled across in the past. Maybe one assigned to you in school. What makes it a "bad" book to you?

May- Thursday, May 7th 6:30

- Genre Roulette: Pick a book outside of your comfort zone. What's something you almost never read? Read it now!

June- Thursday, June 4th 6:30

- "Junk Food": Maybe it's not considered great literature, but you still had a great time. Pick a book just "for the vibes."

July- Thursday, July 9th 6:30

- Non-Traditional Format: Most common selections for this one would be an audiobook or graphic novel. But it could be even more creative than that, like a screenplay or long-form fanfiction.

August- Thursday, August 6th 6:30

- "Not Like The Movies": Find a book that was the source or inspiration for a film or show. How do they compare?

September- Thursday, September 3rd 6:30

- Table Reading: A longer meeting, the group chooses a play or screenplay, everyone in attendance puts their names in a hat to pick characters, and then proceeds to read the whole story out loud as a group.

October-Thursday, October 1st 6:30

- A Banned Book: It's a long list. Find a regularly challenged or banned book. Give it a read and see if there's any credulity to the concerns folks have about it..

November-Thursday, November 5th 6:30

- Food Themed Month: Read a book that is somehow related to food or eating. Then make a relevant dish to accompany you to the next club and share with fellow readers.

December- Thursday, December 3rd 6:30

- Book Swap Meet: Pick at least one book you own, that you've read, that you are willing to part with.
